Grace Notes

When Timothy comes, see that you put him at ease among you, for he is doing the work of the Lord, as I am.

“The mediocre teacher tells. The good teacher explains. The superior teacher demonstrates. The great teacher inspires.” So says William Arthur Ward. I was reminded of that quote when writing this month’s Grace Notes because we’ve been blessed of late by teachers who inspire.

We were truly inspired when David Youngren visited with us last month as he showed us how to live with meaning; this month’s Inspiration arrives in the shape of Jesus-Christ-in-Darin-Hufford-form. I’ve no doubt we will be called to be who we really are by Darin’s example of a life abounding in God. Also this month we have Dan Bilbrough with us. Dan is a divine tuning fork. His beats are the very vibrations of the invisible world. Dan has inspired our worship team having spent a few months working with them behind the scenes to help create and interpret our own sound. I’m excited to see and feel what that expression will look like.

I want to invite you this month, especially as we begin to think about the New Year which is literally round the corner, about the real you and how you can live in such a way as to inspire others to be what we know we could be and really are.
