Grace Notes

What can we learn from the miracles of Jesus? A great deal I think. They are not simply proofs that Jesus is The Christ they are clues to our own identity and the power that resides within each and everyone of us. Put simply instead, as is the wont of some believers following the signs we can and should reasonably expect the signs to follow us. Throughout the series we will constantly be reminded that Jesus' healings and exorcisms serve as a form of teaching about the kingdom of God. At least three grand themes emerge:

1. The authority of Jesus - and we will be challenged to confront the "just-as-He-is" reality for us today when it comes to His delegated authority
2. The reinstatement of the outcasts - again we will be challenged to ask ourselves about the way in which we model this in our day
3. The initiation of the kingdom once again the challenge is will be laid down - we are not the stewards of that kingdom - the new Edem

I hope you will journey with us through this series and like those in front of whom these miracles were performed you will seize at a deeper level your opportunity not just to exercise faith in Him but to have exercise His faith in you.
